So here we have the admission (that WE all knew was true anyway) of who's responsible for the trash here.

You drive yourself off, Mork. You're revolting to everyone except Brain, and Brain's too stupid to realize what he's standing in.

If you mean can I "face" you apologizing, sure I can. I am flabbergasted that you did it. (Or is this someone's belated April Fool's spin? I am willing to accept it as "valid" unless someone else proves otherwise...)

> you "won"

I didn't "win" anything, Mark...YOU are the one with everything to "win" by stopping your lying, trashing of the NG, deceit and overall abusive behaviour.

> now can yu e a man and act civilized

I DO act civilized. YOU are the one trashing the newsgroup, Mark, not me. You're the one with the anger, behaviorial and profanity issues.

However this was a great step. I applaud you (sincerely).
Apology accepted.

Mark, I have another life that doesn't include sitting infront of my computer 24/7 waiting for flamefest tidbits from you (or anyone else for that matter). You create more trash when you keep spinning off dozens of snippets with the same rhetoric in them.

I told you M O N T H S ago that when YOU stopped bringing stuff up it would stop being a topic of conversation.

However YOU continue to generate one post after another with the same language in them. It hasn't stopped because YOU keep re-generating posts with those topics in them, your recent "answering" of posts from back in October-November-December as a prime example.

My comments are irrelevent to the question I asked.

YOU said that the FCC said we are no more relevent to "Homelannd" security than Taxi drivers. I want YOU to tell me how you arrived at that conclusion.

otherwise.

You're not involved.

We're not the same service?

Last I checked we are STILL the Amateur Radio Service. Nothing's changed.

If you really want to retain those spectrum allocations, getting your local representitives to pass one of the several Spectrum Protection acts that ahve been before Congress will do it better.

> > Here's MY point of view: There's already ENOUGH bureaucratic crap

No...It means I advocate leaving the administrative management of the Amateur Radio Service right where it is...There's not ONE thing that would be accomplished by changing who administers us.

However moving us to some department that's supposed to manage HS programs would stretch already thin resources even thinner by doing so.

Even in World War 2 the Amateur Service has remained under civil control. The creation of the War Emergency Radio Service in WW2 wasn't even part of Amateur regulations at the time...It only accomodated folks who WERE Amateurs into a war-related task.

According to anyone/everyone who's had a word to say about it, fine style.

In the days following WTC, the Governor of New York used words like "awesome", "professional", and "supurb" in reference to the GO FOR IT I DARE YOU!!!! It proves my point that you, Brian Crow, and all the other morons have a person vendetta against people who don't see their view. Hell, Brian proved it on QRZ when he attacked me. What this shows and I HOPE the FCC is watching how vindictive these people are, and that their petition to deny K1MAN license be DENIED on the grounds that they not only have a person grudge against K1MAN, but those who question the system. I'm going to write the FCC and have them DENY that petition and show evidence that these people are using a Federal funding agency to remove a person they don't like and are going to do the same thing are in the process of doing the same-thing to those who wither side with K1MAN or question the clarity of the rules and the final order. I'm also going to write members of the house and senate subcommittee on telecommunication and present the same information and that these amateur operators are using a tax payers funded agency for their own person grudges and for person vendettas. So go tell your Buddy Crow and them, they REALLY FUCKED with the wrong person when they started attacking me.

As Mr Evans has often said he never clicks on links to messages then I will repost my questions for him to see and possibly answer if he finds time away from Harassing Brian Reay

Quote..

"So tell us Mr Evans...

Have you ever had improper thoughts about sheep?... (No smoke without fire etc...)
And have you ever sampled the delight that is known as 'Meths' as an inebriant?

And finally, have you ever 'threatened' little girls in any way?...

These are the things we wish to know... "

You were organized on May 9, 1978 when Clyde L. Brunahan (Lefty) and Richard B. Cooper, Ll.D. (Lawman) created Valley Good Numbers after breaking away from HF International. You had no say in the matter as Mr. Brunahan and Attorney Cooper decreed that all HF'ers were now members in good standing in the new organization. And you are late in paying your dues.

This place has become the Mark Morgan and Roger Wiseman sewer. Mark peddles lies and stupidity. Roger does lies and filth. Each has his own issues.

I have no understanding as to why Brian has decided to play sidekick to Mark Morgan. Maybe he just misses Len Anderson.

Look Marky-Turd, I don't need a nitwit that cannot spell, can't form a coherent sentence, does not know what punctuation is, and has basically no grasp of the English language to lecture me about crossposting anything. I crossposted it because you are an idiot, and have trashed yourself in yet another group. I also re-crossposted this reply. Don't think that because you remove a group that I can't put it back. Get over it.

I do not need mental help. I don't have any desire to shove beer in my ass as you do. And I also can have an amicable discussion with anyone that can type in English. Those properties exclude you.

And as far as CB stuff, you are the nitwit that came in here thinking that you were someone. Get over it and move on.

you OTOH are a rude crude ass that lacks the cowage to even use a name let alone his own

>Get over it and move on.

get over what?

you are rude it is no skin off my nose (or any other part of me)

but you can't be polite and expect someone to do what YOU want

Marky, do yourself and everyone else here a favor and quietly slide into the shadows. You are mentally outmatched by even the termites that want to get into the wood of the desk I am typing on. You don't warrant my continued replies. I will try to extract myself from this diatribe and leave you to wallow in the excrement that you have piled into the mound that you so righteously try to defend. Yes, you have been fun to fuck with, but now you are getting just plain stupid. Later dude.

Your liberal use of profanity and quadrupling of posts to expand your spam are classical. The use of the "f" word above is prime example.

When was the last time anyone who had enough actual knowledge and experience was here to discuss any "on topic" material? And please don't tell me you and Brain...The teo of you don't have enough

For once you're right. "as expected".

I very clearly laid out the circumstances.

YOU did NOT fulfill the requirements of the circumstances.

Then you post several "responses" suggesting I've read then ignored

I didn't refuse anything.

What I said was that it wasn't what I said I wanted.

> wy do you lie about me when you say lying is uncivil

I didn't lie to you. YOU refused to follow instructions.

I am.

Write out the apology.

Put it in an envelope.

Put a first class postage stamp on it and post it.

I'd make the same suggestion to you, but a man could read and follow instructions.

Mark, what good is YOU word?

Several months ago I fell prey to an anymouse that forged an 'apology' in my name, yet when you "agreed" to the terms in it, I went along and followed suit.

However YOU immediately went back to the same old crap in the very next round of posts, even though I was doing what I said I'd do.

Send the apology and see what happens.

To do less is to show your cowardice.

What "contract"...?!?! There's no "contract". You can either be Perhaps this will help your understanding.

Lying about people and calling them pedophiles is despicable.
Something is very, very wrong with Steve. Robeson owes Mark an apology. He owes a lot of people an apology.

Do you get it now, or do you continue to give him a pass on his bad behavior?

Of course Marky. Your usual tormenters should know your are being an ass in yet another Usenet group, shouldn't they? And I crossposted it yet again with this reply. Now, as I asked, get off my leg. You chose to reply to my post that contained nothing about retards, Marky, Morgan, pedophile, or sexual perverts. I gave you the chance to get me off your ass yesterday. Are you so self-denigrating that you just can't leave well enough alone?

Be kind to Robeson. His behavior is his way of dealing with his own problems. He believes in projecting his troubles upon strangers, quite the quirky way of dealing and providing himself with some sort of mental therapy. He's a control freak and member of the Civil Air Patrol who acts like he does for reasons known only to himself. He is a man who dislikes compromise, his ego is easily bruised, and one only needs browse his warblings over the years for such an illustration of how this blemish of a Radio Amateur. Robeson is never wrong, don't you know that by now?

ï¿½ï¿½Jerry Oxendine told me Robeson was an officer in the CAP and Robeson has confirmed this himself. This by itself wouldn't be an issue, but the fact he feels it important enough to put it out there in public and couple it with such behavior unbecoming of one who holds such a position makes his hypocrisy fair game.
ï¿½ï¿½It's plain to see why this country is hated more each day around the world. With leaders like we have and officers like Oxendine and Robeson in charge of anyone or anything, who are out there setting examples like they do and spoiling the good image of such civil/military endeavors and entities, it's no wonder this great country is having its image tarnished. Robeson is the worst type of American. He wraps himself in the flag and attacks those with whom he disagrees as opposed to attacking the actual subject matter/topic. Another "semi-qualified licensed" hammie who has much to learn regarding communications. He was taught Fields Communications and basic introductories regarding such, but as exampled, is illiterate when it comes to Discipline in Communications, knows nothing of Approaches of Communications, Relations, Negotiations and a host of other academia related to his chosen radio hobby that he never bothered to learn.
He and Oxendine are much alike. Zero tolerance for any views but their own myopic concerns.

claims I wrote them. When asked for proof he is never willing or able to post any. Let's see how long it lasts before he nym shifts to get more

Marky, this is what I said:

Marky, do yourself and everyone else here a favor and quietly slide into the shadows. You are mentally outmatched by even the termites that want to get into the wood of the desk I am typing on. You don't warrant my continued replies. I will try to extract myself from this diatribe and leave you to wallow in the excrement that you have piled into the mound that you so righteously try to defend. Yes, you have been fun to fuck with, but now you are getting just plain stupid. Later dude.

Did you read and comprehend the part where I said "I will try?" You've not allowed that. Please leave me alone.

Don't confuse my request for weakness. I'm just getting bored messing with you. You are an idiot, and are frankly, well, boring.

If you choose to keep up your moronic rhetoric, then don't piss and moan when your little ass gets more than it bargained for.

I went along with it.

I didn't refuse anything.

What I said was that it wasn't what I said I wanted.

> wy do you lie about me when you say lying is uncivil

I didn't lie to you. YOU refused to follow instructions.

I am.

Write out the apology.

Put it in an envelope.

Put a first class postage stamp on it and post it.

I'd make the same suggestion to you, but a man could read and follow instructions.

Sigh.

Write out the apology.

Put it in an envelope.

Put a first class postage stamp on it and post it.

WTF is a "returnrepited mail", Mork?

I didn't threaten to kill you, Mork.

What lies?

Yes.

I've posted no "fraud", Mork.

YOU did.

No one here EXCEPT you believes otherwise

SO what if you did, Mork? YOU are not one. You're not even a veteran. So what would be the purpose?

Ol' Billy aka Lloyd Davies has already been committed to a mental institution in Independance, Iowa, before Marky. It was when he slapped around his mommy the drug addicted whore when she caught him stealing money from her purse after a night of tricking with her Johns. Billy's mommy usually works on her back as a human mattress.

Wrong, stupid. You can't read, can you?

"Wrong of liar?" WTF are you trying to say, you fucntional illiterate?
You are the self-admitted bisexual, but I'd say you'd rather be a submissive little fem like you are here on the newsgroups. Just like you admitted you are homosexual, too, Marky.

What's "wmen"..... There again, you show you are an illiterate faggot, not knowing what the fuck you are posting about.

Yet, you cheerfully advertize that you want to be submissive. You whine

It sucks to be me
Friendless and unwanted
I ive in emptiness and despair Picked on and teased Laughed at by bullies
My name is Mark and no one cares

All my life I suffer Abandoned by my mother
Beaten by my father
Why even bother...

Scheissman has been mooching off his mommy for years. Just like when he was 40 and moved back in because he had no job, no career, no education, or much of anything else. What a piece of crap. The only reason he has the house he has now is because Marie gave it to him. Poor bastard. One time I am Lloyd and next time it's Todd. How about some consistency Scheissman? I am neither of them. So try again Dumbass!!!

Put two quarters in Wussmans ears and his teeth fold back. Just like a one armed bandit. Even his eyes roll around in his head after he gums that hillbilly dick. Woger has no teeth because they were rotting so Marie bought him some falsies that way he can take them out when gobbling down that spoo from those winos. By the way Scheissman, you ill educated twat. Is it Clibnton Street? Try again fuckup. By the way I am Indeed, Billy, you prove it in every post.

BILLY, DON'T BE A ZERO

Vocal: Bo Donaldson & The Heywoods

[Words and Music by Mitch Murray and Peter Robin Callander]

The gay pride band came down along Main Street
The Village People fell in behind
I looked across and there I saw Billy Smith Waiting to go and join the line
And with her head upon his shoulder
Mary, his old and hideous she-male mommy
>From where I stood, I saw she was cryin'
And through her tears I heard her say

"Billy, don't be a zero, don't be a fool all your life"
"Billy, don't be a zero, you can go back to school at night"
And as he started to go she said "Billy, keep your your head back as you blo-o-ow"
"Billy, don't be a zero, don't forget we can give 'em a two for one you know"

The whining faggots were trapped in a alley
The gay orgy raging all around Dick Sergeant cried "We've got to hang on, boys"
"We got to hold this piece a'ground"
"I need a volunteer to ride me"
"And bring us back some extra men"
And Billy Smith's hand was up in a moment
Forgettin' all the words she said

Everybody said
"Billy, don't be a zero, don't be a fool all your life"
"Billy, don't be a hero, you can go back to school at night"
And as he started to go she said "Billy, keep your head back as you blo-o-ow"
"Billy, don't be a hero, don't forget we can give 'em a two for one you know"

I heard his she-male mommy got a letter
That told how Billy swallowed that day
The letter said that he was a zero
She should be proud he swallowed that way
I heard she threw that letter away

[military drums and fifes to end]

you're the illiterate twat who was miseducated in the Tampa/Hillsborough school system. Of that is just one step above the crack house you lived in since about age 5.

I do understand your view, as far as it goes. Mark lies about people. I haven't noticed your ire over that. Roger Wiseman, in his various incarnations, calls Mark a pedophile and much, much worse. Why have you not made a campaign against him?

> Something is very, very wrong with Steve. Robeson owes Mark an > apology. He owes a lot of people an apology.

You've seen evidence that two disturbed people have turned this newsgroup into a sewer. Mark Morgan is one of them. Roger Wiseman is the other. Mark has a number of emotional and mental issues, though compared to Wiseman, he looks almost rational. I've killfiled Mark, though he keeps coming up with new and misspelled identities. I've seen that he is back to using Steve's late daughter's name once again. How do you defend that?

> Do you get it now, or do you continue to give him a pass on his bad > behavior?

Mark spams this newsgroup with hundreds and hundreds of non-amateur radio related posts. His few amateur radio-related posts reveal him to be ignorant of amateur radio. Yeah, I'm willing to give Steve a pass from now until hell freezes over.

I still don't understand how you can justify being Mark's pal or ignoring the Wiseman factor. After all, anything Steve has written is quite tame compared to him. Even Mark's posts are tame compared to Wiseman. If you toss Todd O'What's-his-face into the mix, it looks as if every loon in amateur radio has staked out a piece of turf here. One of them comments on beer enemas. One likes pornographic cartoons and one is fixated on sex with the dead, with family members and with animals. In the meantime, you're busy worrying about Steve Robeson.

Go figure!

Consistant with being the defender of a functionally illiterate, deceitful, morally challenged deviate.

So what does THAT say about Brain?

Acutally, using my deceased daughter's name to try and promote your "point" in this newsgroup has only had the effect of making it crystal clear to any fence sitters as to just how demented and disturbed you really are.

It's not a "tool". It's an invitation to cause bodily harm to be brought to yourself.

And there's not a court in the land that will do more than make me pay court costs for busting your chops, Mark.

Condier that if you ever elect to travel any farther south than Detroit.

What you claim as a "right" is your spamming of the NG.

That's not a right.

It's illegal.

> > His few amateur radio-related posts reveal him to > to disagree with you don't you mean? or were you just lying?

No.

You've not expressed a single point about ANY aspect of Amateur Radio that hasn't come up short in facts or experience.

And then when people try to help you out you call them names and accuse them of arrogance and other such tripe.

> > Yeah, I'm willing to give Steve a pass

He doesn't comment on Wiseman's behaviour here despite it being

No...He objects to you spamming the NG with tons of functionally illiterate, profanity strewn silliness.

demonstrate that you are clearly in the middle of it.

You are too much of a pussy to have a gun, MARKIE.

Markie uses direcpc.com as an ISP:

dpc691914029.direcpc.com (69.19.14.29)

69.19.0.0 - 69.19.127.255

They are unaware of the extent of his spamming. For now, that is.

Borrowed from QRZ. The loss of ionosondes that have been used in ionospheric research might be justified from a purely monetary viewpoint. But they have provided a historic record that needs to be kept going as a comparison to the space based sensors presently used to measure and predict the status of the ionosphere.

Don't bother posting comments here. Go to WWW.QRZ.COM where they have moderated topics. Thanks, bb

Unless there is sufficient support to reverse this decision in seems we could lose the UK Ionosondes at Chilton and Port Stanley. These provide invaluable propagation data for North West Europe and the South Atlantic. The letter below is from the Head of Ionospheric Monitoring at the Rutherford Appleton Laboratory.

Dear All,

Closure of the UK Ionosondes at Chilton and Port Stanley

This letter is intended to alert our users and the scientific community to the decision of the UK's Particle Physics and Astronomy Research Council (PPARC) to withdraw all funding from the UK ionosondes program. Unless this decision is reversed, or alternative funding is found by the end of June, this will mean the closure of the ionospheric monitoring stations at Chilton in the UK and at Port Stanley in the Falkland Islands within the next 6 months.

The Chilton ionosonde continues the data series begun at Slough in 1931 and has just celebrated 75 years of regular soundings of the ionosphere, the longest sequence of ionospheric data anywhere in the world. The Port Stanley ionosonde has been taking data since 1945, making it one of the longest time series of ionospheric data anywhere in the southern hemisphere.
Closure of the Chilton and Port Stanley ionosondes will cut off valuable long-term data series and leave crucial gaps in coverage at the Northwestern edge of Europe and in the South Atlantic. This would be a significant loss to ionospheric, solar-terrestrial, upper atmosphere and radio science.

With PPARC's encouragement the UK ionosondes team is urgently looking at alternative models of funding for this important, interdisciplinary work.

However, it is vital to avoid having to decommission the sites, if the data series are to stand any chance of continuation. Community support will be an important factor in securing alternative funding and in ensuring adequate time and funding to implement change.

If you would like to support continued operation of the UK ionosondes, please write or email to the contacts given below. We suggest that you ask that PPARC recognise the importance of these instruments and work with the UK ionosondes project team to find and develop alternative models of funding.

Also included below is a list of some of the key issues about the Chilton and Port Stanley ionosondes. Please feel free to choose from this list those points most important to your own area of interest and elaborate on them in your comments to PPARC.

Many thanks in advance for your support,

Sarah James

The importance of the Chilton / Slough and Port Stanley ionospheric data
* The 75-year data series of regular ionospheric measurements from Slough and Chilton is the key international measure of long-term change in the upper atmosphere.
* The over 60 year data series from Port Stanley is one of longest sequences in the rest of the world and, along with Canberra, one of the two longest anywhere in the southern hemisphere. It is the key dataset in the South American sector of the world.
* The quality and consistency of the data have been very carefully maintained. For example, cross-calibration was carried out when the Digisonde at Slough was bought in the 1980's and when the instrument moved from Slough to Chilton in the 1990's. Manual scaling of the hourly parameters has continued in parallel with autoscaling, since the latter became available. This has enabled recent work analysing the accuracy of autoscaling over several years.
* The quality and length of the Slough / Chilton data series means it is widely used around the world as the leading ionosonde data series.
These data are the single, most important sequence in global Ionosonde data.
* The location of the Port Stanley ionosonde is unique. It is close to the South Atlantic Anomaly in the geomagnetic field, a region where energetic particles from the radiation belts are more likely to be deposited into the upper atmosphere. Unusual features, which are seen in Stanley data, may be related to its proximity to the South Atlantic Anomaly. It is the case that the ionosphere does not necessarily behave in the same way in the southern and northern hemispheres, due to the inclination and offset of the geomagnetic dipole relative to the axis of rotation of the earth, and due to the effect of seasonal thermospheric winds on the composition of the upper atmosphere. These winds may themselves be subject to long-term change. So Stanley data is necessary to a global understanding of the ionosphere and upper atmosphere.
* Data from Chilton and Slough were recently used to demonstrate an electrical link between lightning and the ionosphere, a link long proposed but previously unproven. This is an excellent example of the long sequence of routine measurements taken by the UK ionosondes yielding answers in brand new areas of research, and adding to the understanding of the important subject of the vertical coupling of energy in the atmosphere. (Nature 435 (7043): 799-801 Jun 9 2005, Davis, CJ. and Johnson, CG.)

* Ionospheric data from Chilton have already been used in comparison with data from Mars, to understand the impact of solar activity on the Martian ionosphere. This topic is increasingly important for robotic missions to other planets, and safety critical for proposed human exploration of the solar system. (For example: Science 311 (5764): 1135-1138 Feb 24 2006, Mendillo, M. et al)
* The Chilton ionosonde has an important role in the European network of real-time ionospheric measurements, providing the northwestern edge of real-time mapping of conditions across Europe. Its edge position makes its loss significant to the overall accuracy of the maps, especially when there are strong horizontal gradients in the ionosphere, for example at dawn and dusk. (STIF maps at http://ionosphere.rcru.rl.ac.uk/, Annals of Geophysics 48 (3) Jun 2005 - Special issue on Effects of the Ionosphere on Terrestrial and Earth-Space Communications).
* The UK has a strong reputation globally and within Europe in ionospheric science. European COST projects on trans-ionospheric radio propagation have not only used UK ionosonde data, but have also been led from the UK. This reputation and position will suffer from the termination of the most prestigious data in this area of science.
* Through the UK ionosondes, the UK contributes to the internationally important Space Environment Center (SEC) in the US, the Ionospheric Prediction Service (IPS) in Australia and to the World Data Centre (WDC) worldwide system. The data are vital to the production of the IF2 and IG indices, produced by the WDC for STP in the UK. Without Chilton and Port Stanley data, these indices can no longer be produced.
* One of the six science goals of the International Heliophysical Year (IHY) in 2007 is to "Determine the response of terrestrial and planetary magnetospheres and atmospheres to external drivers". Long-term ionosonde data are able to make a unique contribution to answering this question.
IHY will be a period of unprecedented collaboration on this topic, internationally and across disciplines and with multiple instruments. It is counter productive to cut the UK ionosondes program just before such a vital period.
* As well as the areas of research that will be affected immediately by the closure of Chilton and Stanley, it should be noted that the importance of long-term studies of geophysical data are normally in areas that were not foreseen when monitoring work began. Referring to recent results from these stations in long-term change, the comparative studies of terrestrial and Martian ionospheres and into coupling between the troposphere and ionosphere through lightning, these studies could not have been done, or had not been imagined until recently. Unknown future science will be lost too with the closure of these instruments.

Dave is a radio professional. Other than perhaps learning some new emcomm protocols specific to amateur radio, I don't think those courses will do much for him.

Yet those that speak out the most about the ARS being dumbed down haven't taken advantage of this "smartening-up" opportunity. It is all the unwashed and unworthy that need to take the courses.

I suspect you couldn't (more likely wouldn't) show there either, Lardass. You are behind on all your bills since your minimum wage pizza BOY job just pays you what you are worth. You couldn't afford the gas to go to Dayton, fatty. Not to mention there are many hams that would like to "talk" to you, Davies to give you an attitude adjustment.

You and your mommy have been busy giving blowjobs, Davies?

By the way, Lardass, when's the last time your pockmarked face actually touched soap and water, or any other part of your 290 pound flab? Your Papa John's co-workers claim there is always a smell of dried urine

Since you're making that claim and that Mark lives in Michigan. What proof do you have or is it another of your delusional lies? Like I said, you're too pussy to show at Dayton and say anything to anyone on here.
You were too pussy to show up at the door when Tunder showed. Too pussy to confront a woman. You're just a big cuntflap anyway Weissman.

I'm done. I was going to try one more amateur related thread, but just can't bring myself to do it, given it's present state. This group is officially being taken off life support.

I hope everyone remaining is getting what they need from this sea of

I'm heading over to QRZ.

The funny thing is that you've never seen myself or Mark. But you know that just par for the course in that you are full of crap again. Now on the other hand I have seen a few pics of your ugly face. In fact, even one of them has a jack bump on your lip. How did you get that one BK flunk out. Do you dress up in your skirt and tights and chase around the village perverts. Of course that would be you, the king of BJs in the Greater Wheeling area.

Hey Scheissman, didn't Riley send you a letter or two about your jamming of 20 meters when you had to take that retest for your license.

Hey Scheissman, they really should get some guys with white coats to pick you up and take you off to the mental ward. You would make a fine example to be sent there. That or the zoo but I'm afraid the animals at the zoo have more culture, intelligence, and class than even your lowly self.

Scheissman, do you have an obsession with Lloyd. I'm not him but it seems you have an obsession with him. It sounds if you're the one that is queer and blathers all about it. If you really want to meet me, then show up at Dayton and we can have a nice talk. Im sure that you wont and will continue to call people cuss words, etc. Like the true child you really are.

You can't even pay your bills on time, Lardass. Tell us why you never showed at Dalton hamfest after running your mouth. "Billy" knows all about having balls, he usually washes his HUD aprtment neighbors' in his mouth.

Hey, Lardass, answer the question. Why did you phone Roger and ask if you could suck his dick? Your prominent lisp (one can hear it in recordings of your shitty "show") is why you are not motivated (besides being too stupid and lazy) to get that General license. Not that your HUD apartment complex would let you put up a real antenna for HF.

Oh clever... Posting WhoIS output in an attempt to silence folks who may not agree with you. What's next, ad hominem attacks, straw man arguments, and intimidation attempts?

Could it be that there is no more substance to your side of the debate so you are reduced to trying to throw rocks via TCP/IP? Going to break out the hacking scripts like good little script kiddies?

I suppose this should be expected, after all that's the "MO" of Mr. Baxter. Ratchet up threats in hopes of driving off the voice of reason. Sorry, I'm not impressed.

Got any substance to go with all this fluff?

Are you still licking the asshole of the corpse of your dead Grandmother, Davies? The one that used to wash your tiny clit with her mouth when she gave you baths , even up to when you were almost a grown man?

Fuck off, fatty!

Behold he shall ride upon a hard dick and his name shall be Lloyd Austin Davies.

And it came to pass that the king of knob jobs in Alabama, (as Lloyd is known) was gone for a long time, and some of the people celebrated and some speculated that he had died, some speculated that he was ill, some speculated that he was in Maryland at Ray Chason's apartment, and some even thought that the king of knob jobs in Alabama had been made a sex slave by Ray Chason and his butt buddies. It was then the people started to rejoice.

And when the niggers and crackheads heard the murmuring and rumours of the people they assured them that the king of knob jobs in Alabama was just busy sucking on one of his nigger neighbors' big black dicks and would address the people as soon as he could swallow that big load of nigger jizz. The neighbors in his hud apartment complex also knew that the project was the sucking of nigger dicks and telling lies and more lies, but they did not tell the people this for they did not desire to have a vice squad nightmare in the city of Deliverance Extras. Alabama liked to hear about the fat retarded one who proclaimed he was the king of knob jobs in Alabama.

And the niggers and crackheads reassured the people that everything was all right, and told them to prepare pyres and to cook meat, and to ice down beer and nehi soda, and to go out and buy potato chips and other unhealthy snacks from the traders who had immigrated to the kingdom from Vietnam and the land of Gaza. And so the went down to these little stores owned and bought these things. And they went home and warmed up their TV's, for the sabbath approached and the sabbath would bring more action from the mediocre football team at U of Alabama, and the sabbath would bring plenty of exciting nob gobbling action and goo gobbling from the king of knob jobs in Alabama.

The king of knob jobs in Alabama in reality is a ghastly pale porker who stands only 5'6" and weighs an unhealthy 290 Lbs. His skin is as white as copying paper due to his night job of delivering pizzas to the ghetto neighborhood where he dwells in a filthy, roach infested HUD hovel. He doesn't venture outside during the daylight hours, instead preferring to play with Star Trek and Dalek dolls, post lies and filth on the internet and jack off to thoughts of his unrequited love interest Roger Wiseman and dream of finally actually getting some pussy. Not stick pussy, which his homosexual lover Steve Holsten feeds him several times a year when Lloyd goes for his visits, usually around Thanksgiving.

Lately, the king of knob jobs in Alabama has been consumed with posting pictures of someone he says is Roger Wiseman. In fact, the obviously botched purple rendering of somebody else has been cut and pasted, photoshopped and distributed all over the internet by the king of knob jobs in Alabama and his homosexual fantasy lover Ray Chason who is the king of knob jobs in Maryland. Chason who is also a porker has set up a blog of Roger's ex-wife "Regina" telling even more lies. Roger wasn't ever married to anyone named Regina. Of course Chason and Lloyd refuse to let truth get in the way of their lies, like their butt buddy friends who post lies, lies and more lies about anybody who reveals the truth about this band of homosexual predators.

Billy is really a mentally ill retard named Lloyd Austin Davies. Davies himself as a "time Lord" from the Dr. Who sci-fi series. He plays with

Oh.. One more thing...Because you haven't fully exercised all your internet search options.. I'm not a "no code tech." Never have been one actually. But you would have known that if you where smart enough.

And I suppose you are an Extra Class of 40 years working as a communications lawyer who is a retired FCC employee? No? Ahh don't cry about it, I wouldn't really care if you where either.

And in case you don't notice the sarcasm in my post, I'm only slightly amused, but I sure can tell a joke from serious worth while poster.

Yet, broadcasting is part of the NAL under discussion here.

Part 97 makes it very clear what broadcasting is if you will read it for what it says and not try to parse it to confuse and obfuscate the meaning.

True, not all broadcasting (one way transmissions) are disallowed, some are specificially allowed. However, looking at the NAL and now the affirmation of said NAL, it's clear that somebody has a lot of good evidende that what was transmitted constituted broadcasting.

If you wish to "broadcast" outside of what is allowed in part 97, you need to operate under some other part of the FCC's regulations if you insist on going the RF route.

Perhaps a CB or Part 15 would suit you!

fully attracted to female and a wider variety of gal than guys althogugh I don't like "boyish" gals very well. I am more likely to be attracted to any random gal than any random guy but I enjoy both (esp at the same time) and I don't esp try to conceal it whcih has what has

Todd, dude, let's forget for the moment that you've got all these trollers harassing you and concentrate on your feelings toward communications lawyers. I certainly hope you're not including me among those you characterize uncharitably. I agree that it takes a lot of study to become a communications lawyer. I'm just a half-assed one. I've studied communications law quite a bit, but I'm by no means a real hotshot. I have met some good communications lawyers, though. For example, there's George L. Lyon, Jr. of the Lukas, Nace firm in Washington, D.C. Also, there's Philip Kane, K2ASP, the former Engineer In Charge of the S. F. region of the FCC, who went to law school after he retired from the Commission and is now practicing communications law in Beaverton, Oregon. They both seem pretty smart to me, and I'll bet they could handle an amateur case very well.

Serious question:

Just how much power is the maximum permitted level of 250 uV/m at 3 meters for non-licensed devices?

(FM broadcast band?) See this NAL for reference:

With skip I've talked about 500 miles on it before, but normally it's You're such a spineless liar. I don't even live near Dalton moron. That means that I am not Lloyd. I doubt if Tunder wanted to get out of the truck with your reputation as an reprobate fudgepacker. I've never been to Dalton and considering that it is several hundred miles away I doubt I would go anyway considering that it is a pretty small hamfest compared to Dayton or Shelby. I doubt you really had any woman in the house at the time. Probably your shemale butt buddy you just picked up at the gay bar.

Oh and by the way Pussman, are you going to show at Dayton or are you going to hide behind your cum soaked keyboard hiding like the mommas boy you really are. We already know the answer to that, SPINELESS

You sure aren't big enough to give anyone an attitude adjustment puss face. Much less drag your ass off to Dayton. You'll still be hiding behind your keyboard at Glendale because you know if you was to actually get in someones face it wouldnt be pretty. I suspect even you have more enemies as Lloyd. I'm not Lloyd but you're convinced I am.

That's ok though because it would be so funny to see someone giving you back what you asked for. Of course, you're the type of guy to hide behind a couple others instead of fighting your own battles. Try again mommas boy.

You sure aren't big enough to give anyone an attitude adjustment puss face. Much less drag your ass off to Dayton. You'll still be hiding behind your keyboard at Glendale because you know if you was to actually get in someones face it wouldnt be pretty. I suspect even you have more enemies as Lloyd. I'm not Lloyd but you're convinced I am.

That's ok though because it would be so funny to see someone giving you back what you asked for. Of course, you're the type of guy to hide behind a couple others instead of fighting your own battles. Try again mommas boy.

You are comparing essentially apples and oranges. 250 UV/m is a power density measurement that is different from actual power supplied to the antenna. What the FCC is specifying is a field power density at a specific distance from the antenna. This is often specified in commercial services like that of FM broadcst. There is no actual power out specification like in CB or Land Mobile, but a power density at a distance. So depending on the efficiency and gain of the antenna system, will determine how much actual power is needed by the transmitter to yield 250uV/m at 3 meters.

There are formulae to calculate the power density from know variables such as transmitter power, cable losses, antenna gain, antenna hiegth, frequency of operation and distance from the antenna. Once you know the variables it is simple plug and chug to get the answers.

Yeah, she was a lib treehugger bitch...even had a fading KERRY-EDWARDS 2004 bumper sticker!
But ... she was hot! Smokin'!

So I told the slut that I loved baby seals, that Lenin was my hero, and then I l iked to feed the homeless in my spare time.

Bingo! The whore was in my bed spreading her ass cheeks for me and begging for it up the shitter!

So I banged the hell out of her ass!
After I pumped her bowels full of my jizz, I fed her my shit & blood & cum-covered dick! Then she lay back and expected me to eat her! So I told the cunt to get dressed!

She looked at me blankly! I just turned the radio on to Hannity, then picked up Ann Coulter's book and started reading it. The skank started yelling at me!

So I grabbed the twat, dragged her out onto the porch by her hair, and hurled her off the balcony and down into my front yard! Then I tossed her clothes into the fireplace!

The stupid douchebag ran down the street, naked & crying, my jizz dribbling out of her torn up shithole!

Next bitch I snag I'll put bullets into her skull, cut her body into chunks and feed her to the woodchipper or the dumpster in dollar store trashbags behind the McDonalds or Burger King. (they won't know the difference) ALLAH AKABAR!!

(note: the preceeding was purley fantasy for the

It was twenty years ago today,
Roger Wiseman forced the boys to be gay
He's been going in and outa their rears
And he's made them into ravin' queers.
So watch out or I'll force on you
The act we've hated all these years,
Roger Wiseman's Greyhound Men's Room Band.

We're Roger Wiseman's Greyhound Men's Room Band, Disciples of the Bucktoothed Choad,
Roger Wiseman's Greyhound Men's Room Band,
Sit back and watch us shoot a load.
Roger Wiseman's Greyhound, Roger Wiseman's Greyhound,
Roger Wiseman's Greyhound Men's Room Band.
It's wonderful to be here,
But Wiseman's full of crap,
The dirty goddamn pederast:
That fucker gave us syphilis,
That fucker gave us clap.

I don't really want to stop the show,
But I thought you had all better know,
That Wiseman's going to play a song,
On a stickpin that he stuck through his schlong.
So let me introduce to you
The one and only Bucktoothed Choad
And Roger Wiseman's Greyhound Men's Room Band.

Imagine Roger Wiseman
Itï¿½s not so hard to do
Kneeling in the boysï¿½ room
Slurping down some spoo
Imagine all the Cub Scouts
That he does this to!

Imagine Marshall County
That breeding ground for hicks
When they hear how Roger Gets his seedy kicks
Imagining old Wiseman
Gumming pre-teen dicks!

Imagine West Vagina Contagious black lung
No more coal to shovel
So Roger gets by with his tongue
Imagine him paying rent
With free shots at his bung!

We all know Wiseman is a reamer
But heï¿½s useful just the same
Where else would the Nose find a patsy Half as sad or half as lame?

The formulae and theory works whether you are using 1 milliwatt or 1 megawatt.

Much less than that--do the math:

250 uV/m is a power density of 1.66 x 10^-10 w/m. (P= E^2/R and R for free space is 376.7 ohms).

A sphere with a radius of 3 meters has a surface area of 113.1 meters.
Multiplying this by the power density gives .019 microwatts, which if applied to an isotropic antenna (if such an animal existed) would give the specified level. Since a dipole has a gain of 2.1 db (1.64) compared to an isotropic reference, an input power of .011 microwatts to a dipole would result in the same field strength.

This should have been 1.66 X 10^01 w/m^2.

Which should have been 113.1 square meters.

When one killfiles Mark and Woger, this newsgroup goes almost silent.

What we have here is a pair of social misfits chasing their tails around and around and around.

Woger sees Lloyd everywhere and Markie sees Steve everywhere and between attacking one another, neither of these clowns know what time of day it is.

Yes you do. You see Robeson everywhere and accuse him of making posts he does not make. You wear this newsgroup to a frazzle with your false accusations about Steve and you are becoming quite boring. You are just like Wiseman. No brains, no social skills. You are two peas in the same pod.
Of course you and Wiseman do not get along, but that is because the two of you are so alike. If it were not for the fact that Wiseman is adopted and doesn't know who his daddy is, you two could be twins.

Believe me, nobody takes you "serious". Nor did I "attck" you. I made observations and commented upon them based entirely on what I've witnessed these last few months.
You have, like Wiseman, a rather unhealthy fixation that seems to be your only reason for posting. Do you not have other things to occupy your mind and time? Steve may post once or twice a week and he keeps his posts short and he ALWAYS posts over his name and callsign. You, on the other hand, post what? A couple hundred times a week? And as always, you accuse Steve of making posts he had nothing to do with. It is no wonder Wiseman sees through your stupidity and makes fun of you.

You've run this group to the ground and between you and Wiseman you have driven most of the other posters away.
I do not often agree with Wiseman, but in your case I will make an exception. Wiseman is right. You are a simpleton who spams this and other newsgroups. You have ruined this group with your inane and boringly repeated comments.

It is YOU who needs help.

wisemen attacks on me are solely the resuls of steve lies steve is responible for Wismen raving aginst as surle as some toosing meat in front of a dog

I don't spamm the gruop at all

I do rsit wismens effort to contiue steve tradtion of slandering me and anybody that posts here

Steve set the pattern and steve is repsosble for the results

but steve isn't man to admit his misdeeds or his lies

> It is YOU who needs help.

I could use some of course I could use Law Enforcement to do its job and protect the public from people like Steve and most esp Wisemen

but alas they will not

no you can hide behind a tag saying Retarded in chassel and lie and clim that you are not attacking but it is a lie . It certainly suggests that you another of stevs (or Dave hiles)sock puppets, it is certainly logical to wonder that.

so go get help find a plan to stop Wismen Raving and we can have a NG again, and a way to keep steve from truning every thread hetouchs into an attack thread and maybe we can keep a NG

But we have seen no Ontopic posting from you and nothing but suport for the Steve and Wismen defacto conspriacy to attack me indeed we have senn littel else for nearly a year

The below is such a joke that I will not take the time to respond in kind. Mark is making such a great display of advertising his stupidity that further comments are not necessary.
For instance, what the heck is "patanints "?
Mark still whines that Robeson is "repsosble " for many of the posts hereabout. Mark. When will you get it through your thick concrete skull that Steve is not lurking, does not coax us to make posts and does not post over sock puppet names? How many times does this have to be spelled out to you before you get the message? Must you be struck on your thick skull with a sledgehammer to get a point across?
You put a whole new meaning into the definiton of stupid.

You say, "I don't spamm the gruop at all". Yes, you do. Problem is that you lack the intellect to know what Spam is. Heck, you cannot even spell it properly.
Then, like the stalker you are, you say, "Steve set the pattern and steve is repsosble for the results."
No, that is another of your stupid fantasies. Here again you see Steve everywhere you go. YOU set the pattern and you continue to spam and the results are your own doing. Steve has been mostly silent this week but you continue to hallucinate and blame any and all unexplained posts on him. Wiseman has your ticket, bud. He plays you like a three dollar Saturday Night fiddle in a two dollar whorehouse.
I had to laugh when you say, "that you another of stevs (or Dave hiles)sock puppets". How many times must I thump you on your concrete forehead and remind you that Steve AND Dave post over their real names and callsigns? What part of this are you not getting? Are you hard of hearing?
Hey, I do not "suport for the Steve and Wismen defacto conspriacy to attack me" In fact, I cannot make heads or tails of what is you just said.
I think you meant to say that I support Wiseman and Steve when they take you to task for your stupidity. Come to think of it, perhaps I do.
But what the heck, Markie. You bring these caustic comments upon yourself and you have nobody to blame save yourself.

You really are a class act, Mark. Low class.

I don't spamm the gruop at all

I do rsit wismens effort to contiue steve tradtion of slandering me and anybody that posts here

Steve set the pattern and steve is repsosble for the results

but steve isn't man to admit his misdeeds or his lies

> It is YOU who needs help.

I could use some of course I could use Law Enforcement to do its job
and protect the public from people like Steve and most esp Wisemen

but alas they will not

no you can hide behind a tag saying Retarded in chassel and lie and clim that you are not attacking but it is a lie . It certainly suggests that you another of stevs (or Dave hiles)sock puppets, it is certainly logical to wonder that.

so go get help find a plan to stop Wismen Raving and we can have a NG again, and a way to keep steve from truning every thread hetouchs into an attack thread and maybe we can keep a NG

But we have seen no Ontopic posting from you and nothing but suport for the Steve and Wismen defacto conspriacy to attack me indeed we have senn littel else for nearly a year

You sure hide under several sockpuppets, LARDASS! You didn't show at Dalton hamfest after running yout fat mouth. You send unwanted magazine subscriptions and make one ringer phone calls in the middle of the night to your enemies. You are just a 6 year old little retard girl in a man's body which is why Steve Holsten of 611 9th St. Kennett, Missouri is attracted to you. Steve's busy now that his son, Steven L. Holsten has been arrested for raping children. It runs in the Holsten family.

Dancing With Myself, written about LARDASS Lloyd Davies
by Billy Idol
This song was inspired by an obese, pathetic bloody wanker named Lloyd Davies!
This loser couldn't get laid in a bloody whorehouse with a no-limit Visa card.
Billy Idol

Dancing With Myself
(Billy Idol, 1984/ guess who, 2004)

On the floor of christian dances I show
Or the Wagon Wheel gay Bar I a-go, go
With natural selection
I always get rejection
I'm dancing with myself

When there's no-one else in sight
In the crowded lonely LARDASS Lloyd night
Well I wait so long
For a love connection
And I'm dancing with myself

Oh dancing with myself
Oh dancing with myself
Well it's the Lord I choose
And I never have screwed
I'll be dancing with myself

If I looked all over the world
And there's every type of girl
But you pick the good looking guys
And always pass me by Leave me dancing with myself

So I drink another drink
'Cause it'll give me time to think
If I didn't have this fat gut

I'd actually get a fuck
But I'll be dancing with myself

Oh dancing with myself
Oh dancing with myself
Well I'm addicted to food
And I have 80 pounds to lose
I'll be dancing with myself

If I looked all over the world
And there's every type of girl
But you pick other guys
And always pass me by Leave me dancing with myself

So I drink another drink
'Cause it'll give me time to think
If I had the chance
I'd get some romance
But I'll be dancing with myself

Oh dancing with myself
Oh dancing with myself
If I had the chance
I'd ask to get into your pants
If I had the chance
I'd have some romance
If I had the chance
I'd get hair implants

[Fade chorus]

Dancing with myself
Dancing with myself
Dancing with myself
Dancing with myself

Well If I looked all over the world,
And I've never had a girl
Because I study the guys
Not the girls' thighs
Leave me dancing with myself

So I drink another drink
'Cause it'll give me time to think
If I had just the chance
I'd get into your pants
But I'll be dancing with myself

Oh dancing with myself
Oh dancing with myself
If I just had the chance
I'd get into your pants

If I had the chance
I'd have some romance
If I had the chance
I'd get hair implants

Gee, Woger. It sounds as though someone took a page right out of the book written by your very own butt-buddy, Jimmy "Dimwit" O'Brien, W4AMP. It is not so much fun when it happens to you, is it? But then, perhaps if you weren't such an unsavory bunghole things such as that wouldn't happen to you.

The King of Knob Jobs in Alabama never learns

And there came upon the land a long period of peace, for the the king of Knob Jobs in Alabama and the imaginary daleks and silurians had taken flight from their enemies for they knew that the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama was the dumbest asshole in all of the known world. They had taken the worst ass whipping in the history of mankind and waddled off with his belly hanging between his short stubby legs.

And, the time of fighting and cross words posted on internet forums was almost forgotten. Because, the daleks were returned to Lloyd's empty skull, where they had little to do but drill and polish his little knob. Then the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama grew bored and restless, for he was a species who thrived on attention and making trouble. But his enemies were kept under control by common sense and they tired of whipping a mentally defecient retard too many times.

And the two toothed hillbillies of Alabama thrived, for there was work for all, and food was plentiful and the beer and ale flowed freely when the men returned home in the evening after a day of work. and some of the men would build fires in the bbq's and they would prepare meat and set the meat to the grills, and when the meat was done they would take the meat and prepare a banquet. and sometimes the men would argue over the merits of the sauces offered for the meats, and some would say that a vinegar based sauce was the best and some would say that an oil based sauce was the best and some would anger both sides by favoring a mustard based rub on the meat. and the men would occasionally come to blows, and when this happened the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama would suckk all of them off. The fat assed heiffers would run outside and break up the fights and reason with the men. The heiffers sometimes dreamed that they were the property of the king of Knob Jobs in Alabama. And they would laugh their fat asses off at his attempts to get a hard on and his distended belly which covered his 2" pee pee up.

And so it came to pass that early in the nascar season there was a particular race. and in this race Jeff Gordon and Matt Kenseth had an incident and jeff gordon where they were caught sucking each other off in the garage area. Gordon lost his usual composure and walked over to Matt and attempted to pull his pants down to cornhole him like he had with the other gay Nascar drivers. Kenseth and pushed him and wanted to beat his ass down but was stopped before they could really get to scrapping. As the rest of the Nascar drivers were gay and sided with the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama. And within a short time the scandalous posts about the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama began to again appear on the internet, and post lies about anyone and everyone.

And then Lloyd ordered the imaginary silurians and the daleks to exterminate his filthy hud hovel to cleanse it of the rats and roaches so he could once again drink bud light beer and flood the internet with filth and lies about various people.

"And Roger wasn't even home when the Heils showed up. That wasn't Roger inside when they showed up, dumbass. Unlike you, he had a woman friend who was there while he had gone to the store."

Now THIS one has to be a new classic, Curtains Boy. You prove once again that you are an inveterate liar and are so adept at same that you are even beginning to believe your own lies. Just when I thought you couldn't top yourself, you open your yap and prove me wrong.

And, the time of fighting and cross words posted on internet forums was almost forgotten. Because, the daleks were returned to Lloyd's empty skull, where they had little to do but drill and polish his little knob. Then the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama grew bored and restless, for he was a species who thrived on attention and making trouble. But his enemies were kept under control by common sense and they tired of whipping a mentally defecient retard too many times.

And the two toothed hillbillies of Alabama thrived, for there was work for all, and food was plentiful and the beer and ale flowed freely when the men returned home in the evening after a day of work. and some of the men would build fires in the bbq's and they would prepare meat and set the meat to the grills, and when the meat was done they would take the meat and prepare a banquet. and sometimes the men would argue over the merits of the sauces offered for the meats, and some would say that a vinegar based sauce was the best and some would say that an oil based sauce was the best and some would anger both sides by favoring a mustard based rub on the meat. and the men would occasionally come to blows, and when this happened the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama would suckk all of them off. The fat assed heiffers would run outside and break up the fights and reason with the men. The heiffers sometimes dreamed that they were the property of the king of Knob Jobs in Alabama. And they would laugh their fat asses off at his attempts to get a hard on and his distended belly which covered his 2" pee pee up.

And so it came to pass that early in the nascar season there was a particular race. and in this race Jeff Gordon and Matt Kenseth had an incident and jeff gordon where they were caught sucking each other off in the garage area. Gordon lost his usual composure and walked over to Matt and attempted to pull his pants down to cornhole him like he had with the other gay Nascar drivers. Kenseth and pushed him and wanted to beat his ass down but was stopped before they could really get to scrapping. As the rest of the Nascar drivers were gay and sided with the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama. And within a short time the scandalous posts about the King of Knob Jobs in Alabama began to again appear on the internet, and post lies about anyone and everyone.

And then Lloyd ordered the imaginary silurians and the daleks to exterminate his filthy hud hovel to cleanse it of the rats and roaches so he could once again drink bud light beer and flood the internet with filth and lies about various people.

Now tell us how your "dalek army" will get us, fat boy!

That would depend on how bad your breath was. ;-)

It's also about receiving too. Bigger antenna is better.

5061. Trash Talking Wiseman, AB8MQ

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.policy
Date: 2006-04-09 23:53:05 UTC
From: Saint Clair Retard <IBeRetarded@StClairShores.uz>
Message-ID: <e1c6p1$4th$0@pita.alt.net>
Source record: 141306
Cross-posted to: alt.cocksucker.roger-wiseman,alt.radio.scanner.flame_fest,rec.radio.amateur.misc,rec.radio.amateur.policy

Trash talk is another word for a garbage mouth. Swearing, trash talk, foul language -- by whatever name -- has never been acceptable for quality communication. It is a habit like smoking or drinking that is usually begun for all the wrong reasons, by wrong thinking impressionable minds that then find it very hard to stop. Its effects are very real and are not positive. As the advertisement says, "People do judge you by the way you speak."

Words have always mattered. To elevate, justify or even excuse trash talk is to regulate those who practice it to a level of society that is equally disgusting in its judgments and lifestyle choices.

To offend through language is not a virtue. Got it, Wiseman?

Lloyd Davies is really sick to support pedophiles instead of law enforcement.

http://harryschwartz.blogspot.com

Lloyd Davies believes a child should be molested before the police move in against pedophiles.

Athens AL - Lloyd Austin Davies of Athens, AL released a statement today stating that all pedophile stings run by law enforcement should be eliminated and the police should wait until an actual child gets molested before prosecuting.

This is in response to Christopher Lee Holsten 23, of Kennett Missouri, being arrested on two felony charges by arranging sex with a 13 year old girl, only to find out it was an undercover cop. Chris Holsten's father, Steven Craig Holsten, strongly believes that age of consent laws should be eliminated or reduced, and that children can consent to sex.

Steve Holsten is a self-professed white supremacist nazi and has stated that all four of his children were also white supremacist. Holsten also is known for posting thousands of gay pornograhy photos on the Nimbusters message board as well as many other message boards such as this one.

Usually a number of children get molested before one gets caught via police stings or actually molesting someone. Davies however believes the rights of pedophiles are more important than protecting children.

Read the story about Christopher Holsten's arrest here.

http://www.dddnews.com/story/1145634.html

Davies has a past history of vile racism himself and is a devoted follower of Prophet Stair of Walterboro, SC. Davies has also shown signs of bizarre behavior, including an over-obsession about the sci-fi Dr. Who show.

Davies is also known as N0VFP on message boards, which happens to be his no-morse code ham license. When contacted by HSZ staff, Davies only comment was "Fuck You"

Davies claims to be a Xian.

----------Story below from the Dunklin Daily democrat

http://www.dddnews.com/story/1145634.html

A proactive, cooperative effort among area law enforcement agencies resulted in a number of arrests recently -- Hollywood style.

The Kennett Police Department Special Response Team (SRT), assisted by the Bootheel Drug Task Force (BDTF) and the Kennett Police Department under the direct supervision of Pemiscot County Sheriff Tommy Greenwell and Kennett Police Department Chief Barry Tate conducted an Internet sex sting at Kennett.

More than a dozen men were arrested -- some from as far away as St. Louis and Fort Leonard Wood -- who trolled the Internet searching for sex with children, a BDTF agent told The Daily Dunklin Democrat.

Greenwell saw a Dateline NBC television program that depicted a similar sting, snagged the idea and ran with it, Tate said.

"We have more than 90 sex offenders here in Pemiscot County," Greenwell said. "I just put two and two together and got to thinking about it.

"Lots of times, these sex offenders, when they get online, they try to lure these kids with drugs and everything else," he continued. "So I thought it would be a good operation to see what the task force could do. I brought it to their attention one day that I'd like to try a trial operation and see what kind of response we'd get on the sexual predator end of it, and try to see if we could make any drug cases out of it."

Tate said his officers and BDTF agents involved in the operation posed as girls and boys as young as 13 years old in Internet chat rooms, and were approached for sex nearly immediately by more suspects than they cared to count.

"We rented a house here in town, just like anybody would go about renting a house," Tate said. "We outfitted it with a sofa and a table or two in the living room, and a refrigerator so the guys could keep drinks and food there."

But that's as far as furnishings went, unless one counts as home necessities a dining room outfitted with a table, a few chairs, and eight computers manned by uniformed officers and plain-clothes agents, all accessing the Internet to chat with would-be sexual predators, the chief said.

"The officers just went online and entered a number of different chat rooms, including Yahoo and MySpace" he said. "It wasn't long before they were approached by all kinds of guys."

Using screen names like "Kennettstoohot4you," the investigators concocted chat room cover stories that described lonely young teens who eventually, electronically -- and scurrilously -- were contacted by the suspects, Tate said.

Some of the alleged sexual predators taken in by the scheme went so far as to contact an adult confidential informant who participated in the operation, appeared very young and posed as the underage bait for the officers during the sting.

"These guys knew exactly what they were looking for and thought they had set up a date for sex with a child," a task force agent said. "The suspects and the informant spoke on a cell phone, set up the day and time of the rendezvous, and we were on hand to bust the suspects after they showed up at the door.

"The informant opened the front door, invited the suspects in the house, and then we made the arrests," the agent continued. "At no time was the informant in danger. Out of all the online suspects, only two who contacted the informant by phone and made plans to meet her at the home didn't show. All of those who did had condoms. Most had alcohol. One had a box of Viagra."

One alleged sexual predator, who agents said arrived at the sting with a pocket full of condoms and a 12 pack of beer, told them he came to advise his date about Internet predators, and the dangers associated with dating online.

Another suspect is a U.S. Army Staff Sergeant from Slippery Rock, Penn., assigned to Fort Leonard Wood, who agents said came to meet his intended victim in a vehicle equipped with U.S. government license plates.

A military uniform hung inside the car, agents said.

Two of the suspects are registered sex offenders, agents said.

Greenwell said Friday that he's proud of the proactive stance, yet surprised at the number of men arrested, and the lengths to which they'd go in attempts to meet minors for sex.

A Federal Bureau of Investigation special agent assigned to the Cape Girardeau office and who visited the site said those suspects who crossed state lines for the reason of having sex with a minor violated federal law. They'll face federal prosecution, the agent said.

Dunklin County Prosecuting Attorney Stephen Sokoloff filed second-degree attempted statutory rape, a D-felony that is punishable by up to four years in state prison, against:

* Ryan D. Dubyak, 25, of Slippery Rock, Penn.

* Tommy L. Woods, 58, of Caruthersville. Woods was issued a summons to appear April 21 in Dunklin County Circuit Court, Division II, police said.

* Christopher L. Holsten, 23, of Kennett.

* Clarence B. Smith, 29, of Trumann, Ark., who agents said is a registered sex offender.

* Thomas W. Lemons, 44, of Dyersburg, Tenn.

Assistant Prosecutor John C. Spielman filed the same charge against:

* Brian A. Carden, 22, of East Prairie.

* Chester L. Hankins, 20, of East Prairie.

* Evan J. McManaman, 25, of Jackson.

* Jason J. Modde, 31, of Jonesboro, Ark.

* Christopher N. Landers, 22, of Paragould, Ark.

* Joseph W. Hayes, 26, of Sikeston.

* Floyd J. Stephens, 25, of Kennett.

* Douglas M. Shikuutizi, 27, of St. Louis.

Spielman filed a second-degree attempted sodomy charge against Kenneth L. Breedlove, 38, of Kennett. Breedlove allegedly thought he communicated with a young boy, and is a registered sex offender, police said.

In addition, Spielman said Friday that a second felony charge, enticement of a child, will be levied against Holsten, Hayes, McManaman, Shikuutizi, Smith and Stephens.

The C-felony is punishable by up to seven years in prison, Spielman said.

Pemiscot County Prosecuting attorney Mike Hazel filed a second-degree attempted statutory rape charge against Mark J. McDinnis, 27, of Bragg City, a BDTF agent said Friday.

Task force agents said the investigation continues.

Greenwell said a similar operation is slated for Pemiscot County in the near future.

The DDD appreciates the assistance of Dunklin County Sheriff Bob Holder and his staff; the Dunklin County Prosecuting Attorney's Office; Pemiscot County Sheriff's Department; Bootheel Drug Task Force; Kennett Police Department; and the FBI for their parts in making this article possible.

ok, how does that argument work when a john is picked up trying to solicit a prostitute? Is the defense then that it wasn't a "real" prostitute since there was no sex involved? This isn't any different, except that the victim is a child.

THERE IS NO DEMAND

THERE IS NO DEMAND stated Todd Daugherty N9OGL on QRZ. N9OGL has been criticized as a Glenn Baxter K1MAN supporter by the Anti-K1MAN group, yet this is not true. N9OGL, which runs his own information bulletin on the 20 meter band questions the FCC action due to the vagueness of the rules regarding information bulletins. The FCC rules state an information bulletin is "A message directed only to amateur operators consisting solely of subject matter of direct interest to the amateur service." (47 CFR 97.3(25)) The material doesn't have to be about amateur radio, only of interest to amateur radio.

Recently N9OGL posted on QRZ that this idea by amateur's who feel that the amateur service would become a wasteland of information bulletins wasn't true. The reason is that the demand for information bulletin isn't there, if it was there then there would be room to panic. But the fact is not all amateur radio stations want to run an information bulletin. An amateur would rather talk two way then one way, thus the demand to run an information bulletin isn't there. Just like beacons, there's a lot of beacons out there but not all amateurs are running one, the demand to run one isn't there.

N9OGL COMPLETE POST

N1LAF said: Those who want to broadcast should look at streaming on the internet... bigger audience too

That's the problem, everyone and their mother can internet broadcast, there's too much diversity and not enough of audience. I've been streaming broadcasting for the last four days and in that time I've only had one person listen. Secondly I believe information bulletins can be used for the purpose of not only for informing amateurs but for the purpose of educating amateurs as well.

This idea by amateurs who fear that the amateur radio band will be clogged up by information bulletins is not true, the reason that this will not happen is because not all amateur want to run an information bulletin. The demand isn't really there. I mean ask yourself, how many amateur do you really know want to run an information bulletin? If the demand was there then there would be room to panic, but there no demand I mean do an amateur poll and ask amateurs if you had opportunity to run a information bulletin on the amateur bands would you. I bet anything the huge percentage would say no, why there is no big demand. If there was a big demand in the future for information bulletins by that time the FCC would probably change the rules. That's why information bulletins are allowed in the amateur service, because the vast majority of amateurs would communicate via two way instead of one way, the demand for one way communication (information bulletins) isn't there. just like it isn't there for beacon station, there is a lot of beacon out there, but not all amateurs are doing it.

A necessary preface.....

(It is becoming increasingly difficult to fly the flag for decency and for civilised behaviour in Radio Hammery. Even the Usenet newsgroups dedicated to the cause have degenerated into a hotbed of abusive onslaughts by those who ought to know better; the Nugatory Numpties who boast of an interest exceeding 10, 20, 30, 40 or even 50 years and yet who have proved themselves incapable of even meeting the trivial exam standards set for 6-year-olds. However, there still exists the fundamental basis on which Ham Radio is based, and that will never die. This FAQ ("What Is Ham Radio?") will be regularly published and will not be shouted or bullied down. It is important that those of a technical bent, who are the natural seed-corn of Radio Hammery and who gravitate towards us to be the real novitiate, can still find us, (and know that we are still here), their fellows.)

-----ooooo-----

So,.....What is Ham Radio?

Ham Radio is a technical pursuit for those who are interested in the science of radio wave propagation and who are also interested in the way that their radios function. It has a long-standing tradition of providing a source of engineers who are born naturals.

Ham Radio awakens in its aficionados a whole-life fascination with all things technical and gives an all-abiding curiosity to improve one's scientific knowledge. It's a great swimming pool, please dive in!

This excitement causes a wish to share the experience with ones fellow man, and shows itself in the gentlemanly traditions of Ham Radio.

Radio Hams are in a unique privileged position in that they can construct and operate their own equipment! No-one else has this privilege. Users, such as broadcasters, the po lice and armed farces, CBers and mobile phone users have to purchase ready-made gear. Manufacturers are not licensed to operate their gear. Radio Hams are qualified to design, build and then operate their own pieces of equipment. They do this with gusto, and also repair and modify their own equipment. This is a privilege well worth the effort to gain, and one to be jealously guarded.

The excitement that drives a Radio Ham starts with relatively simple technologies at first, perhaps making his own Wimshurst machine and primary cells. Small pieces of test equipment follow, possibly multimeters and signal generators. Then comes receivers and transmitters. It is with the latter that communication with like-minded technically motivated people takes off. The scope for technical development grows with the years and now encompasses DSP and DDS. There is also a great deal of excitement in the areas of computer programming to be learnt and applied.

The technical excitement motivates Radio Hams to compete with each other to determine who has designed and manufactured the best-quality station. This competitiveness is found in DXing, competitions and fox-hunts.

-----OOOOO----

However, beware! A Ham Radio licence is such a desirable thing to have that there are large numbers of people who wish to be thought of as Radio Hams when, in fact, they are nothing of the kind! Usually such people are a variation of the CB Radio hobbyist; they buy their radios off the shelf and send them back to be repaired; they are not interested in technical discussion and sneer at those who are; they have no idea how their radios work inside and have no wish to find out;
they are free with rather silly personal insults.

These CB types engage in the competitive activities with their Cheque-Book-purchased off-the-shelf radios in a forlorn effort to prove that they are Radio Hams.

No _REAL_ Radio Hams are deceived by such people!

-----ooooo-----

One infallible way to disambiguate the CB Radio Hobbyist from the _REAL_ Radio Ham is to solicit their view of the difference between CB Radio and Ham Radio. A Radio Ham will perceive Ham Radio to be a technical pursuit and will perceive CB Radio to be a social communications facility no different in essence to a land-line telephone or a GSM mobile in the hands of a 6-year-old. Thus a Radio Ham could also hold a CB licence safe in the knowledge that such a licence says no more about him than having a land-line telephone, whilst continuing to regard Ham Radio as a separate technical pursuit.

A CB Radio hobbyist, on the other hand, sees no difference between a Ham Radio licence and a CB Radio licence. To him, they are sisters-under-the-skin. Wrongly, the CB Radio Hobbyist then tries to classify himself as the equal of the Radio Ham when, in fact, he is nothing of the kind.

Ham Radio is not CB Radio and has no common ground with it! Ham Radio is _THE_ technical pursuit for gentlemen; CB Radio is the operating hobby for those who buy their rigs and equipment off the shelf.

-----ooooo-----

If you are the sort of person who is motivated by a technical interest in how things work; if you took apart malfunctioning clocks, toasters and the like and put them right despite never having seen them working, then a Ham Radio licence is your traditional route! There has never been a shortage of such people, and those who gravitate towards such an interest have always been welcomed into our shacks and their interests fostered. There is not today, nor has there ever been, a need to go out and encourage and press children, children who have never expressed an interest in Ham Radio, to come into our shacks. Such an activity should cause eyebrows to be raised - what normal well-adjusted adults seek the social acquaintance of children?!

-----ooooo-----

Please remember that this FAQ is a _POSITIVE EXHORTATION_ to you to exert yourselves to join our fraternity! (If you find otherwise, then perhaps you are already classing yourself in the mediocre groups of those who are criticised in the FAQ and from whom we _MUST_ dissociate? If so - it's never too late for a re-taxonomisation on your part - there's nothing elitist about us, and we welcome all those who are prepared to put themselves out in order to join our ranks!)

Uh huh.

Me and every stand up comedian in the US, Markie. Better start

why do you tell that lie is a good question, and even better one is do

You should really try to stay out of the threads where you haven't got a clue about the subject everyone is talking about. Basically for you, that would mean any thread related to radio. Then you won't get laughed at as much. Of course, they're all still going to laugh at your spelling and grammer, but there is nothing you can do about that.

Happy to Help.

Wrong, you stupid fat fuck. It means he faked the record. The "lawyer" who is supposed to have handled it, when called, the phone company

Remember when you posted my property tax info and the photo of my home with the added caption? Do you recall my posting your property tax info?

Your first reaction was to claim it as a lie. After I posted the url for the Marshall County Assessor's Office, you were forced to eat those words. You've been forced to eat many words. Remember your story about the "charges" filed against me? What ever happened to those?

Do you recall my posted account of our visit to your home? Your first reaction was to call it a lie. Your second was to claim that it was "2 on 1" and that there was no way that your were going to open your door under those circumstances. One of your most recent twists on the story is that you weren't home and that a girlfriend was in your home. Would that be the girlfriend who has never seen me or my wife, the one who couldn't turn on a porch light and ask who was at the door?

You've written about others that they are afraid to open their doors, that they are cowards. You've indicated that several others have something to fear from you. When they've indicated that they are safe from you, you've countered with "Wanna bet?". You've boasted of what you would do or could do with a gun. Yet the only place you show any bravado at all is on the internet. That comes in the form of malicious filth about others and their families.

The real Roger Wiseman quakes behind a bolted door with his imaginary friends and his imaginary girlfriend. His reality is that he is the coward.

I've told you that I'm not going to put up with your tactics. I've told you that the Glen Dale Police and now the Marshall County Sheriff's Office and Prosecutor have the story and a CD full of your filthy rantings. You aren't clever. You leave electronic tracks.

Now you've gotten yourself labeled a nut by management and security in a department store. You are known by the authorities in this area. You've been dumped by a number of ISPs. You are reviled by the local amateur radio community.

Lately, your every malicious move has backfired. All that has happened is that your pathetic life in the tiny little house on the tiny little lot is under a microscope. Is this your way of crying out for help?

You need to seek help to turn your life around. I don't think you want to be remembered for your current "achievements".

I didn't see any admission of anything, Rog. What is your fixation on the pates of others? You've gone on for ages about my hair. You've claimed that I have a comb-over, yet any photo of me reveals your tale to be fantasy. Now you're fixed on Mark Morgan's hair? Get a life.

My car is not quite three years old. It is yellow. What is your fixation on it and its color? Why would anyone go to a web site to see a Dodge Neon?

Been on the air lately, Roger? Worked any DX? Checked into any nets?
Done any RTTY operation?

I'll tell you what, Roger: If my hair keeps receding at this rate, I'll be bald in thirty or forty years. What's your fixation on the hairlines of others?

Anyone can see for themselves, Rog. Nobody can do much about his hairline or many other physical traits. You, for example, can't stop looking like a Stephen King troll doll. You might be able to do something about your mental issues though.

Wrong, you stupid fat fuck. It means he faked the record. The "lawyer" who is supposed to have handled it, when called, the phone company gives you an out of service message. You can't sue for libel, you stupid retard. Anything written is true, especially about you.

Well, Not Woger, you've lied about so much and so often that nobody believes you. For instance, you initially claimed Dave and his wife DIDN'T go to your door, and then they DID go to your door but you weren't going to answer because it was two to one, and NOW "you" weren't home when Dave and his wife visited. Nope, "you" were at the store and the only person at home when Dave and his wife DID visit was your imaginary girlfriend.
Oh, wait. Wasn't it just last week when you admitted to Lloyd that you "used to have a girlfriend"? What happened to her? Did she spring a leak?

You tell so many lies, Un Wiseman (such as your retesting problems with Riley) that it is unlikely you even know what the truth is these days. So you see, Un Wiseman, when somebody tells us that you filed for bankruptcy and you subsequently fly off the handle as you did, we figure that your denials are simply more of your sociopathic lies and that someone told a truth about you that you didn't wish to be known.
I bet Lloyd Davies never filed for bankruptcy.

Poverty Among the Boerfolk

Annette calls in from South Africa to talk about the economic plight faced by the Boerfolk. Job quotas have been imposed against the Boerfolk that literally shut them out of job opportunities, and there is a defacto "Whites Need Not Apply" policy among most employers in the "New South Africa". Annette also discusses the reasons behind this ethnic cleansing of Whites in South Africa.

The Right Perspective is heard live every Friday night 10pm EST over shortwave WWCR 3.215 Mhz and the Internet at www.therightperspective.com

Hey you R.P. SHI+heads!

The end of your white colonial rule ended when Nelson Mandella became President and de-throned Botha.

Get a clue. Africa is for Africans, not the lilly-white Dutch colonials who sided with Hitler and Fascist Germany during WW-II.

Ha! "The Right Perspective"...more like used cars and half-baked halfwit white trash from Manhattan Beach and Iselin.

I'd say that Tood wins. Apparently, they never taught you about conjunctions while you took the Devry correspondence courses.

In a comparative phrase such as "Janet is taller than Jane," or "any more than they ...," you do not use the word "then," because it implies a sequence of events or ideas. You might say "She stomped Woger's face, and then she went back to Finland," but that's not the kind of sentence you were attempting to construct.

However, we all understand that you're lucky you can even construct a sentence of any kind, and we don't really expect much out of you anyway. Go back to your flooding.

5351. Radio Communications Foundation (RCF) - is a confidence trick underway?

We are well used to the double-speak, spin-doctoring, side-stepping, bullshitting and downright lying that are the habituations of anyone and everyone associated with the control of the Potty.

What, then, is the hidden agenda that lies behind the RCF?

If there were to be a national society in Britland that represented the interests of Radio Hams (Yes, I know it's a "pipe" dream) then such a society might be expected to fly the flag for Ham Radio and undertake various public relations exercises.

Why, then, start a foundation with those ends in mind?

Can it be that the Potty recognise that the writing is on the wall and are safely feathering their nests with an escape route? (It is noticeable that the controlling parties of the Potty and of the RCF are the same people)

When the employees of the Potty are involved with the RCF (which is legally an entirely separate organisation) do they take days-without-pay from the Potty?

Why con subscribing members of the Potty mob to pay out yet again for the RCF (The "Big Shitters" of BadCon?)?

Why do the annual expenses of the RCF, seemingly a charity staffed by volunteers run to tens of thousands of pounds? Is someone already ensconced as a highly-paid chief executive in preparation for the demise of the Potty?

Why does the RCF exist at all - it is inconceivable that this could happen in Yankland, where the ARRL _DOES_ represent the interests of Radio Hams!

You could try asking the trustees directly. Their details are here http://www.commsfoundation.org/trustees.htm.

Far from being some kind of conspiracy as you suggest, I am sorry to disappoint you but it is simply that as a registered charity it allows donations to be relieved of tax.

A significant amout of the 'tens of thousands' that you speak of probably go at least in part to the staffing and upkeep of GB4FUN.

Please let us know the results of your discussions with the trustees.

That's exactly what it is. The RSCB (like the rest of us) knows perfectly well that the "Radio Society" con is blown wide open. Their credibility is zero, and we have all see precisely how they have manipulated Ofcom into creating Multiband CB as a cash cow for Kirby & Co.

>(It is noticeable that the controlling parties of the Potty

You bet they are. . .

> Why con subscribing members of the Potty mob to pay out

Because they really do think you're all morons! You're all expected to be so stupid as to not realise that you have indeed been conned - yet again. The RSCB has a long history of treating the mug punters with total contempt. It would be foolish to expect that to change. Face the facts: The RSCB is determined to milk you dry - whatever way they can.

The ARRL really is a "National Radio Society", not a magazine publisher running a scam. . .

BIG difference !!

Let me get this right.

You asked for help.

I responded immediately and offered exactly what you were seeking.

Your response was to originate gratuitous abuse and to threaten police action against me.

Are you sick in the mind, or, perhaps, just sick in the mind?

That you are a director of the RSCB and make repeated nasty and personal attacks on those who aspire to the traditional traits of _REAL_ Radio Hams can only mean one thing....

ALL _REAL_ RADIO HAMS WHO HAVE NOT DONE SO ALREADY SHOULD RESIGN IMMEDIATELY FROM THE RSCB IN DISGUST AT THEIR ATTITUDE AS REPRESENTED BY YOU.

I got fed up with amateur radio a few years ago.

It used to be an elite group of folks who didn't allow people in unless you proved yourself. It used to be something that people set goals for and worked to achieve them. It used to be that when you joined the ranks of amateur radio, there was a sense of pride because there was a sense of accomplishment. And then added pride as you moved up the ranks. I felt pretty proud when I achieved extra. Achieving extra class today doesn't really mean anything other than you can cram for a test, get past it and then forget everything. I've been saying for a couple years now they might as well just do away with any licensing requirments. Just start calling all the ham frequencies the other Citizen's Bands. That's the ultimate goal, isn't it? Why do we have to move in that direction so slowly? Why not just do it?

When I got my novice ticket, I was asking my fellow hams questions like why part placement was so important in my homebrew 6L6. Now-a-days, nobody cares how it works. New hams today ask questions lke what's the best starter radio and antenna to buy? And on two meters, they talk about stuff like their pregnant cats. I find more interesting converstations on channel 19 these days.

Is there a way to cancel my ARRL life membership and get some kind of pro-rated refund?

Well said - do they think that they can carry on conning BadCon readers into a sense of self-importance when names and callsigns of donors are published but without then revealing details of where the money goes?

Don't tell me - I know - "commercial confidence" again!

Or should that read, "commercial confidence trick"?

WHY ARE THE RUNNING COSTS OF THE RCF TENS OF THOUSANDS?

 If the RCF is independent of The Potty (as is falsely claimed) why are details of the donors published AT ALL in BadCon which is the house journal of a commercial publishing company?

Hi Guy

I have commented on this kind of stuff before ad-nauseum, so I'll limit myself some!

In my view the only reason the license exists is to prove technical competence to the authorities that you can operate a station without damaging yourself or other people. (Whether by bad operating practices, RFI or anything else)

With the expansion of all things radio related over the last (say) 30 years you cant possibly cover all the possibilities of what amateurs can be involved in with an examination. Nowadays one would make the assumption that if you have troubled to learn the knowledge for some core items in the test, you would continue to learn as needed in whatever direction your hobby takes you. What you should be asking is whether the test covers enough technical principals to avert RFI etc situations or at least send the operator scurrying to their theory books! Setting the standard "high" to maintain a "club mentality" is unfair for example on those people that want to experiment on radio things NOT with or limited contact with other amateurs of this "mentality". (eg those out of mainstream interest like nets and QSL cards!)

I am also surprised at the supposed pride one feels on attaining the license. When I sat for mine way back in the late 70's it was mentioned (by the authority) that the technical qualification that one obtains from such a license was pretty insignificant next to a more formal radio qualification. Perhaps this is a VK/US difference in social values or something, but I certainly never regarded the piece of paper anything else than an authority to operate.

Any time you want a technical chat on things I have worked on/had experience in feel free to contact me. I havent however had much experience with thermionic valves... I do however have all types of interesting amateur radio (related) projects lined up that will keep me entertained for the next decade or so!

Cheers Bob W5/VK2YQA

He's probably already cut and pasted it from another of his earlier rants and is poised ready to post it as we speak....he's just got to rummage down the back of the settee to find the appropriate stamp money... or do they give deposits back on Meths bottles so he needs to empty the one he may or may not be swigging from first??

Who knows.... who really cares... and who let him stay at home over Easter?

I see though that he has homed in on Brian again... trying to bribe him for an apology... how low will the man stoop...

I never said otherwise the NG is not worth the time for polish , sure it is an opion but look at the place most of the content for year has 2 or 3 people calling everyone retarded or alfficted with STD's or child moestors or just plain rapist

if the NG want me to spend more time polishing it need to merit that treament in the judgent of those it is asking to do the work you for example are not even willing to sign you name to your stuff

The ARRL represents only 15% of hams.....AT BEST on a good day.

30% are indifferent. The rest of us would rather see that mildew and black mold filled old building BULLDOZED into the ground and a McDonalds placed up in it's place.

ARRL = Cold War Relic of Old Boy Networks staffed by drunks.

Filtering is the act of taking responsibility for what you read by configuring your newsreader to present only what you want to see. This is a special and expected case of censorship , simply extended to include -you- as the remover of ability from others to communicate to yourself.

There will undoubtedly be articles you will see, whomever you are, that you do not like. Ultimately, however, filtering these articles out is the personal responsibility of every reader of rrap. Imagine a world without N9OGL, KB9RQZ, K4YZ, et. al. You can DO it!

There are many filtering techniques in use by modern newsreaders. Consult your newsreader's documentation for details on any of these methods, if they exist. These methods are (in no particular order):

- The "next message" key

ALL newsreaders can use this method, which is basically to stop reading and move on to the next article. There is a "next" key or button somewhere on your newsreader, and this is one of the first things you should find before beginning to read news.

-Menu Selection

Most newsreaders allow you to select articles presented on a menu. The menu usually contains the author, the subject, and date posted. This information alone, used correctly, can filter most unwanted trash for you if you select only those authors and subjects you are interested in.

-Threading

Some newsreaders "thread" articles, trying to preserve the "tree" of discussion. A thread is simply an article presented with all the articles that replied to the original article, and all the replies to the replies, and so on. Usually discussions happen in threads, which helps to pull the discussion out of the other articles so you can focus on it.

-Killfiles

Some newsreaders have a "killfile", which is essentially a list of authors you never want to see postings from. This solves the problem of an over-prolific poster whom you are tired of seeing.

-Scoring

Some newsreaders, mostly UNIX based readers, have a feature called "scoring" which attempts to assign a numeric score to each and every article based on patterns in the headers or body. This is a very useful feature, as you can rate (say) the authors numerically (including negative numbers) and have your favorites show at the top.

The best way to use scoring is to define a "threshold" score such that articles below the threshold are silently ignored. Then it becomes easier to rate authors and subjects to maximal effect. Assigning a -100 value to all the slimer authors, or any author with _friend_ or _OGL_ contained in their adee will automatically remove 97% of the putrification from your newsreader inbox.

This keyboard-to-keyboard stuff SUCKS ROYAL ASS....

I hear ya! I miss the Old Days, too. Back then, before Riley caught me, I could hammer the crap out of anybody within earshot and I could throw the neatest of carriers and play recordings of the .313 crowd. I drove those clowns nuts before Riley shut me down and made me retest. He even ordered me to take the batteries out of my pocket recorder.
I miss the good old days of posting personal information about other Hams and jamming up their conversations. Those were the best of times. That was what Ham Radio was all about.
Now all I can do is sit here in my West Virginia shack and hide behind my keyboard while using four or more dialup accounts (and four letter words) while posting via anonymous remailers. Life is not as much fun as it was back in the Good Old Days.

Yes, this stuff sucks royal ass. It has put a Helluva damper on my stalking endeavors.

Mark...shut the heck up. You post run-on comments that make no sense save to your 12 year old brain; nobody can make sense of what it is you try to say.

In all seriousness, Mark, you sound like a third grader with bad spelling.
Yet, Mark, you are stupid enough to persist in posting your inane comments, and for what? To make yourself look even more stupid than you are?
What part of crass ignorance do you not get? How many times must others out here affirm the fact that you are a simpleton?
Yes, Mark, you are stupid. Get help.

You're taking the meaning of 'independent' out of context:

"The RCF is a charity set up by, but independent from, the Radio Society of Great Britain."

> THERE WOULD SEEM TO BE A PRIMA
> FACIE CASE FOR A COMPLAINT TO THE CHARITY

Well, you'd better get on with it then. But before you do you'd be well advised to discuss your concerns with the trustees as I suggested before. Let us know how you get on, although I have the distinct feeling that you'll forget all about it once you realise that there's nothing to this than your own hot air.

As you profess to not being an RSGB member (although you still seem to be a reader of RadCom) why do you care? Have you donated to the RCF?

Right. And here's my kill file for slrn (a free news reader for Windows, MacOS, and *nix). The kill file will also work with slight modifications with the free Windows news reader called Xnews.

Perhaps other readers can post kill files for other news clients. We could then repost updated kill files periodically to keep the slime at bay.

A score of -9999 means "kill," and the newsgroups listed in the square brackets are the groups to which this particular set of rules applies. Note that many of the rules use so-called regular expressions, a method of string matching which has been around since the 70s. The filters remove all of the garbage from this group while letting the other posters get through unmolested. I have completely killed three sites (aioe.org, usenetzone.com, and superfeed.net) because nothing but junk comes out of them. I am on the verge of killfiling all posts coming from Google, because it's getting pretty close to becoming a source of pure garbage itself. For the moment, I'm using the NNTP-Posting-Host line that Google provides instead.

Well, mail is easily ignored, and I keep a 12 gauge close by, so I am is certainly too gutless to show up at my door, and if he did, it would be unfortunate for him, if he chose to act in a threatening manner.

Roger barely got his because he had to bribe the VEs not only once but twice. See he is a two test guy having had to take the test twice after Hollingsworth made him take it again. This was because of jamming and bad behavior on the bands especially 20 meters.

Hmmmm,
Was that your first or second draft on the subject line? Use more polish.

Step 1: No more automatic renewals. Individuals must retest and pass all elements required for their license class.

Step 2: The passing score for written exams needs to be raised to 85%.

Step 3: Code elements should be 13 wpm for General, and 20 wpm for Extra.

Step 4: Make the no-code license one year non-renewable.

If you're going to say something, why not say it in a manner where what you have to say will be understood by those that read it?

Oh, but he's unsubscribing you from the news group instead of himself. With you and a handful of other slimers wiped out, it is possible to discuss ham radio on here again. There is so much garbage in the group that you don't see the discussions which are taking engaging their kill filters, you just don't matter any more Markie.

I now return you to my kill filter.

When Wiseman seeks out and finds the homes and information of others it is called (in his sick mind) retribution.
When others come knocking on his door or post photos of HIS house, he calls it stalking.

Amazing how Roger seems to not know the difference.

Perhaps you might read URL:
http://mrtmag.com/mag/radio_hams_rescue/index.html
Where over 2,000 "showed up" and were used

Just a snipet

In the days following Katrina, the Coast Guard, American Red Cross and Federal Emergency Management Agency all put out calls for volunteer hams to provide communications because cell sites were inoperable, and public-safety communication facilities were overwhelmed because of the loss of repeater towers. In one instance, hams were instrumental in the rescue of 15 people clinging for life to a New Orleans rooftop. In Alabama, amateur SKYWARN weather nets kept the National Weather Service apprised of conditions throughout the state. In hard-hit sections of Mississippi, hams running off generators and with makeshift antennas were the only means of communication.

5568. Why abortions are legal.

Years ago when the country was more conservative, abortions were illegal. Then, as time moved on and cousins married cousins, brothers married sisters, and dads impregnated their daughters, abortion was made the law of land. West Virginia hailed this as normalizing the status quo.
Unfortunately for all of us, Woger Wussman was conceived well before abortion was a legal option. Too bad.
It would have been fun to watch as Woger did double back flips in his embryonic sac while trying to avoid the probing coat hanger. I can almost see it. Woger twisting sideways to avoid the hook...saying, "Oops! You missed me." Then again, when the hanger was inserted for another try I can imagine Woger saying, "Nice try, Lloyd. But I am still here."
One can only imagine the tears Woger's birth giver must have shed when she looked at him. In fact, one local witness to Woger's birth said that the donor vagina looked at Woger and cried, "THAT thing came from my vagina?"
The witness stated that, to spare the donor vagina any further trauma, the malformed product of intercourse (POI) was spirited out the back door of the hatchery in a gunny sack.
Like all abortions that should have been, Woger is with us today whether we like it or not. And to this day Woger has an aversion to coat hangers and suffers bouts of nausea whenever he sees one.
You want to see Woger dance? Easy. Wave a metal coat hanger at him and watch as he does the Hot Potato Hitchhike. He knows how to boogie!
Woger is fairly fleet of foot when it comes to dodging coat hangers. Too bad he has not the same talent when it comes time to hide his ISPs.

And, Wog? Perhaps you could recommend the same back alley abortion technician to Mark. It is not too late for Mark. Does this abortionist perform lobotomies?
Oh, wait. Mark is in no need of a lobotomy. He has no brain matter to remove.

Happy Easter, Woger. Give my condolences to your donor birth vagina.

Sorry, Your Most Putziness (and that's no small thing considering you're in the circle of the Feeble Five...) but as I have stated before, there's life far more rewarding and exciting than RRAP...especially since you've spammed it to death.

And DOUBLY especially since the days are getting longer and the weather is absolutely gorgeous.

Of course you wouldn't know that...Most welfare cheats usually stay at home sopping up their ill-gotten gains, and judging by the prolific nature of your posts, you're no different.

5574. YOUR LEADER K1MAN/AARA/IARN WILL NOT PAY $21,000 FCC FINE - DEMANDS JURY TRIAL

K1MAN/AARA/IARN WILL NOT PAY $21,000 FCC FINE - DEMANDS JURY TRIAL

1. The FCC has declined to provide a requested hearing, and the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution requires a hearing and due process of law before they can collect a dime much less the "ORDERED" "fine" of $21,000. Even a traffic ticket gets a hearing, right?

2. Therefore, the next step for the FCC, by statute, is to now sue K1MAN for the claimed $21,000 in Federal District Court in Bangor, Maine where K1MAN would demand a trial by jury (trial de novo), subpoena witnesses (Hollingsworth, Boston Office Engineers, hams, etc.), file motions, etc. The FCC can't even bring such a suit, of course, because the minimum claim in Federal District Court is $50,000.

3. By statute, unresolved forfeiture matters such as above cannot be used in any other FCC proceeding such as K1MAN's pending renewal application.

4. By statute, K1MAN can and will continue to operate until the renewal application is finally decided including all appeals to the D.C. Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court.

Bottom line is that the FCC is blowing phony legal smoke leading to Hollingsworth's 2006 Dayton "Special Achievement Award" which is not too bad for a guy who was sick on the day they taught law at law school. Wake Forest Law School should refund all of his hard earned money! Good luck in the contest!

Roger Wiseman posts under a variety of pseudonyms while posting large quantities of filth to various internet newsgroups.

He has done the equivalent in his use of his amateur radio station. He does both to lessen the enjoyment of others. He quickly dismisses evidence of either. His FCC retesting was, according to him, for nothing at all. The tape submitted of his QRMing on 20 meters was, in Roger's words, "doctored".

Roger never lost an ISP for violating Terms Of Service. He never filed bankruptcy. My visit to his home was at first, "lies". Then it became "2 on 1". My turnabout of posting Roger's property tax information (after he posted mine) was called "lies" until the url for the Marshall County Assessor's Office was posted. That same url destroyed his story of not living in a tiny house on a tiny lot.

What is it about life that you don't get, Roger? What part of being a sociopath do you find rewarding? What don't you get as to the reasons that you are friendless? What is your necessity for posting Eastertide filth and calling another a spammer? What spamming could excuse the kind of material you post? You've told me several times about Roger Wiseman's achievements. You've not posted one solitary example of a positive thing ever done by Roger Wiseman. Is there something that any one of us could do to see that you receive the mental health counseling that you so obviously need?

A little Q and A

1. NO9GL LIVES IN HIS PARENT'S BASEMENT

A. Not true, NO9GL actually lives on the very top level of his parents 1908 home. That is sometimes called the attic. When NO9GL parents both retire (in another two years) they plan to move out of state and NO9GL GET'S the house. I know there are some dumb fucks out there that have never heard of term inheritance, but that's what the deal is. After that I will come out of the attic and go downstairs.

2. NO9GL IS A CHILD MOLESTER

A. NOT TRUE, to constitute as child molester, you must have performed or attempt to preform a sexual act with an underage child. NO9GL has never done that. Instead, I just look at naked little kids and pant. That you dumb fucks is called a pedophile. Got it? A pedophile isn't illegal either it just what someone likes.

Hi,

My name is Lloyd Austin Davies. I have been dick sucking for 31 years.
I have given blow jobs to blacks, whites, hispanics, orientals. I give blow jobs regardless if you are gay, straight or bi.
I learned to give blowjobs when my daddy Ray stuck my lips on his hard cock. I even have my own usenet message board, alt.cocksucker.lardass.lloyd-davies. My preference is for boys under the age of 12 although I'll fuck any child. I am HIV-positive so I service the aids crowd. I don't charge. If you like to use my services, please give me a call right away

Note that I didn't cross-post this all over God's little green acre.

Why not just get a life, and begin to understand that life for all of us involves some rules of behavior, and, if you want to be a part of it, those rules will apply to YOUR behavior too?

You can't accept that? Then, BUG OFF, dude. We don't need you kind in the group. That's "life", little man.

Jeez...government schools, and parents "in absentio"..that's all it takes to make one of these little cretins.

again the rule of law having been the start of this affair the ruleneeds to upheld and wroked through why do you seem to object to K1MAN using the rulesas written including such things as the law (not just the FCC rules intended to enforce it) and the constitution of the USA you want rid of K1MAN you may get your wish but why the unseemly ruse to cut offthe law. If something you

He will pay the fine or cut a deal with the FCC. Either way he will eventually loose his license.

But they do have the legal right to collect this money or a lot of folks who have gone before would have tried this approach. It won't work. Others have paid fines to the FCC for less blatant violations of the rules. Best get a good lawyer and start collecting the money from the change jar, bank accounts, car ash tray etc. Somebody is going to have to come up with $21k. As noted by others, this 50K limit does not apply to this case, but have fun using this defence in court. I can hear it now, "Objection over-ruled! Sit down Mr Baxter!"

A jury trial would be fun to watch, but there would be no doubt about the outcome if Baxter chooses to continue to represent himself. I'm sure a jury of his peers would understand the part 97 rules and how they where broken.

> 3. By statute, unresolved forfeiture matters such as above cannot be > used in any other FCC proceeding such as K1MAN's pending renewal > application.

>From my perspective this does not apply in this case any more. The FO pretty much resolves this issue so the FCC can use this enforcement issue to deny the pending renewal application, paid or not. However, that need not be the reason used to deny the renewal. I'm sure they have other things they can use to justify a denial if they wanted to. All they need to do is dust off some different violations for which they have collected evidence and voila, application denied. The don't even need a rules violation, just a determination that he would be unfit. Now that's a tough argument.. :)

> 4. By statute, K1MAN can and will continue to operate until the > renewal application is finally decided including all appeals to the > D.C. Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court.

I would not try to operate after the application is denied. Once K1MAN gets the "you no longer have authority to operate" letter from the FCC, he'd best stop. Of course the FCC is well within their rights to keep the application in pending status as long as they choose. The denial may come out today, or may take years. I think it will be sooner rather than later, but I give it a few months yet before they deny the renewal. I'm sure they plan to be totally sure he's not going to pay the fine before they deny the application so any time after the end of the month.

Unless Baxter wants to just loose $21k to help fund the FCC, I would suggest that he contact them through a competent lawyer and seek some sort of settlement terms. Perhaps a life time ban from Part 97 operations, liquidation of all his part 97 capable equipment, promise to not seek a future license while the FCC forgoes the collection of the fines. But hey, it may be to late for even that. I'd bet the FCC has him dead to rights on this fine, he will loose his renewal bid, pay the fine and then who knows what he will do? I'm guessing here, but I'll bet the FCC would agree to him going willingly into part 15 operations and forget the fine under the right conditions.

Based upon is rhetoric it seems that he will be dragged kicking and screaming from his shack and off to jail, while his equipment is confiscated. One can only hope that this is rhetoric and that at some point he will "come to his senses" and give up.
